

MASSACHUSETTS ENVIROTHON

Thursday, May 12, 2022

Quabbin Reservoir, Belchertown, Mass.

Welcome!

It has been a long two years of waiting to gather and celebrate in person, but finally... welcome to the 2022 Envirothon!

Through challenges, perseverance, and tenacity (three words that describe many solutions related to environmental issues), Envirothon teams have found ways to navigate throughout these difficult times. Whether learning through zoom meetings and webinars, scavenger hunts, site visits and team events, you have gained the knowledge and basics to make sound environmental decisions.

To quote my favorite rockstar, Dave Grohl, "If you're passionate about something, and you're driven and you're focused, then you can pretty much do anything that you want to do in life."

For those students who are continuing studies in the environmental field: you can do it and we are counting on you to be the next generation of voices to protect our planet! Today is a day to celebrate your knowledge and most of all to have fun!

Thank you to Dan Clark, Lisa Gustavsen and the entire staff at the Quabbin Watershed for welcoming us to this beautiful place for this year's event.

Lastly, in the spirit of this year's Current Issue — Achieving a Zero Waste Future for Massachusetts — we are publishing much of this year's competition program in an online e-program to reduce waste. Instead of an eight-page paper booklet, attendees are receiving this single page handout. All other content is available on our website. Use the QR codes in this handout to go directly to the online content. I hope you enjoy it.
